

A Celebration of Life

August McCoy

April 30, 1943 - June 4th, 2018

Obituary

August Mohandi McCoy passed from this world on June 4th, 2018. He was born April 30th, 1943 to August and Esther McCoy in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. He was the third of nine children - Patsy, Ralph, Nelwyn, Ted, Raymond, Jackie, Monica, and Robert. He is preceded by his son August (Fef) and survived by all of his siblings, daughter Tioni and her husband Greg, companion Sue, and three grandchildren - August (Weeble), Vernon, and Lukas.

August raised his family and lived his most of his life in Richmond, California. He was a dedicated father, friend to many in the community and a father figure to those he took under his wing. Known as Auggie, Gus, Doc, Handy, Coach, Mac and other nicknames, August had a passion for cooking and showed his love through meals shared. Manning the grill on a sunny day at home with the house and yard filled with family, friends and laughter was his perfect day.

Memorial Service

Opening prayer

Obituary

Prepared remarks

Open remarks
(please limit to 2 minutes)

Closing

10am, June 14th, 2018

Unity Church

351 28th Street

Richmond, California

Some of August's favorite quotes:

"Fortunately, I keep my feathers numbered for just such an occasion" – Foghorn Leghorn

"The rumors of my death have been greatly exaggerated" – Mark Twain

"A house is to live in, a home is to live for"
– August McCoy